Born Dec. 6, 1930, to Roy and Ruby (Singleton) Cage in Bridgeport, Wanda was a lifelong member of the Twin Oaks Assembly of God and the granddaughter of Charlie Singleton, one of its founders. Wanda was a seamstress by trade. Even after retiring, she enjoyed sewing patches for various organizations such as law enforcement and motorcycle clubs. The family was never surprised to see a police vehicle or motorcycle in front of her house. Another prominent talent she had was baking. She always enjoyed baking for friends and family whenever given the chance. Wanda was also known to call on loved ones and sing, "Happy Birthday" every year. She will always be remembered as being generous, giving, and having a big heart. One of the organizations Wanda was passionate about was the Pleasant Hills Children's Home. She had a heart for children and even led the girls' program (the Missionettes) at church.

Survivors include her daughters, Micki Pierce and Pam Miller; grandchildren Scott Pierce, Lori Hicks and husband, Randy, Carrie McClain and husband, Glen; great-grandchildren Kyle Hicks, Brooke Hicks, Morgan McClain and Camryn McClain; and a host of other family and friends.
