Jeremiah Johnson Young, 43, of Abilene, unexpectedly went home to be with Jesus March 2, 2022, at his home.

Funeral service was Monday, March 7, 2022, at Beltway Park Church, South Campus with Pastor Josh Hardwick officiating. Private burial followed at Elliott-Hamil Garden of Memories Cemetery, under the direction of The Hamil Family Funeral Home.

Jeremiah was born in Chico, to Cindy Willis June 17, 1978. He was adopted by Billy Young and raised in Decatur. He graduated from Decatur High School. He married Jennifer March 14, 2009, in Snyder. He worked for Vexus Fiber as a Residential Sales Manager. Jeremiah lived a life that was entirely devoted to chasing Jesus when he was baptized at the age of 21. The years that followed were marked by joy that flowed from obedience to the Holy Spirit. His God given personality, filled with joy and humor, drew him to serve in the Beltway Student Ministries and Beltway Kids. Jeremiah was moved by the Lord to seek revival and walked out his calling and faith alongside the Godly men of his Fire Team. As husband, Jeremiah championed for Jennifer in every season, guarding her heart and spurring her on. As a loving father, he shepherded Emmalyn and Tristan by bringing the fun and joy while setting the example through a Christ-centered life.

Jeremiah was preceded in death by grandfather, Reno Clayton; mother in-law, Debbie Roemisch; and grandmother-in-law, Jayme Roemisch.

Jeremiah is survived by wife, Jennifer, of Abilene; daughter, Emmalyn, of Abilene; and son, Tristan, of Abilene; brother, Benjamin Young and wife, Mandy, and their children of Sevierville, Tenn.; brother-in-law, Jeremy Roemisch, and his children of Hermleigh; mother, Cindy Willis and husband, Donald, of Ponder; adopted stepfather, Billy Young, who raised him, of Decatur; and father-in-law, Joe Roemisch of Hermleigh.

Pallbearers will be Patrick Burke, Matt Briggs, Daryn Crowell, Cody Wadsworth, Robbie Walker and Benjamin Young. Honorary pallbearers are Todd Hendrix, Bill Friske, John Nichols, David Correa, Jeremy Roemisch, Andy Booe, Derek Blanton, Nole Hadaway, Victor Roman and Jeremy Stockwell.

The family of Jeremiah Young wishes to extend our sincere thanks to everyone who has dedicated so much time and care in this difficult season.
