Carl Ray Pearson

Carl Ray Pearson, 61, of Sunset, died Monday, Oct. 19, 2015, in Paradise.

Funeral was Oct. 23 at U-Turn World Ministries in Chico with Duane Tracy and Jerald Austin officiating. Burial followed at Pleasant Grove Cemetery No. 3 in Chico with Kevin Alexander officiating.

Carl was born Jan. 27, 1954, in Kerrville to Irvin Carl and Alva Joyce (Austin) Pearson. He was a stonemason, and later became the computer fix-it man in and around Chico. He was a familiar face at U-Turn World Ministries, where he was a member, and he ministered to all who needed him.

Carl also enjoyed studying Bible prophecy and gardening. But, as busy as he was, his passion in life was his family.

Carl was preceded in death by his grandparents, Vernon and Elizebeth Pearson of Kerrville and Eddie and Jeanett Austin of Dallas; father Irvin Carl Pearson of Tow; brothers David Pearson of Ingram and Brian Pearson of Dripping Springs; father-in-law Bill Jessup; mother-in-law Patsy Argo; and sister-in-law Marsha Argo.

He is survived by his wife of 43 years, Deborah Sue (Jessup) Pearson of Sunset; son Jason Scott Pearson and wife, Sarah, of Sunset; daughters Amy Michelle Pearson of Sunset and Rebecka Ann Pearson and husband, Chris Barnett, of Sunset; mother Joyce Pearson of Tow; brother Jim Pearson and wife, Diana, of Kerrville; and sister Penny Pearson Britza and husband, Ian, of Perth, Australia.

He's also survived by sisters-in-law Linda Pearson of Ingram and Cindy Pearson of Dripping Springs; and grandchildren Kyndal Pearson, Jeremiah Pearson, Jordan Pearson, Nathan Barnett and Gracie Barnett.
