Ricky Lee Townsley

Ricky Lee Townsley, 39, died Saturday, Nov. 7, 2015, in Breckenridge.

Memorial service is 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 15, at Fort Griffin State Park in Albany.

Ricky was born Oct. 18, 1976, in Abilene. He was passionate about teaching his children practical skills of the past in which he excelled. He was a skilled outdoorsman, as well as an excellent cook, and he enjoyed preparing feasts for friends and family on the huge outdoor smoker he built himself.

He loved working his farm with his family, was a talented musician and artist and an ASE-certified structural expert at car restoration.

Ricky was preceded in death by his dad, Frank Eisenman; paternal grandparents, V.A. and Lucille Townsley; maternal grandfather, James Jones; and three nephews.

He is survived by his devoted wife, Angel; children Lainey, Cole, Natalie and Gage; mother Phyllis Eisenman of Chico; sister Michelle Cloud; brother Joe Townsley; grandmother Ruth Jones; uncles and aunts; father Rex Townsley; and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.
