Linda was born July 29, 1959, in San Diego, Calif. to Doyle and Bobbie (Waldrop) Jackson. She married Donald Earl Prince Sept. 29, 2016, in Tarrant County. Linda graduated from North Side High School in 1977. She spent her life as a dedicated and compassionate caregiver of the elderly and recently worked at the VFW Post 10374. Linda was the nicest person you could ever meet and could never say "no" to anyone in need. Her only child would tell you that her mom was her best friend and that she is proudly her mother's daughter. Her granddaughters would tell you that no one could spoil a girl like their Grammy could. Her husband would say he adored her and that she was the most beautiful woman in the world. No one that saw how he looked at her would argue. Her loves included the ocean, doing the happy dance, camping and fishing and she had a passion for music that was second to none. But to Linda, her greatest joy in life was her family. She was the best mother, daughter, Grammy, wife, sister and aunt. To know her was to love her.

She was preceded in death by her mother.

She is survived by her husband; daughter Breanna Trimble and husband, Jim, of Keller; grandchildren Bryce, Lily and a grandson on the way; great-grandchild Jaylynn; her father; brothers Ray Jackson of Boyd and Skip Jackson and wife, Pam, of Newark; sister Wanda Rogers of Fort Worth; four nieces; one nephew; and friends.
